May 15. Dear Dolbear.
I have notice given this of Munro's to take you away. I don't write you why, as when I came over to N. Y. with or was to have been to do so
way or another
ever since. I have been busy writing
out full notes of the N. Y. meeting
as Johnson
might write to see them. I shall send them as soon as I get over the meeting and the rush of sweets with an occasional visit of my subordinates. I am getting better but
was nearly worn
out. The meeting was a thing long to be remembered. Mr.
Franklin Head are at N. Y. We were going out, I fear to be away, he knew it was only Munro sent this note. Munro was a Bore was in three acts. All well.

Yours with love
Dear Dolbear,

Hand the enclosed after sealing it (unless you could transact the business much more to edification, to Rodney French. In what I write, I shall be able to say "Gentlemen I am narrating - not accusing."

Get me a copy (accurate) of Phelps letter to Emerson forthwith. I shall see the 1st to the first Monday - I must have that. (You dont know what I mean to do with it.) I'll delight to rush on the point of that spear.

New York has just been taught a lesson I find. Handled without mittens. L. Tatham resigned!

Yours Marcus W. Rathbun.
